

Charlie The Cute Little Kitten

By Brooke _____ grade 2

Thank you for listening to this book and the contest itself. Thank you from Brooke

One summer evening, a bright glimpse of light shown through the bushes near my house. I lifted up the curtain to get a better look at the amazing sight in front of my eyes that just appeared. "Emma!" cried a pipsqueak small voice from behind a bookshelf. "Who was that?" said Emma to herself. After her eyes opened, in the distance she saw a small very cute adorable kitten. The kitten's fur was gray with a little pink up-side down triangle wet cute nose. Everything about that cute little bright cheery kitten was cute.

I replied back at the kitten and said, "You look very adorable. What is your name? I have been looking at you so sweet and kind but I have wondered why you are here." The kitten thought and thought until finally he stuck his paw over his head to show the signal of a light bulb and then the thought came up to the top of his furry, furry cute head. Emma had a family of five. One was a baby brother, John and one was her little sister Victoria and her parents. Last but not least herself of course. She was the bigger sister. Emma loved her family. But just as Emma said family, her mom called from the kitchen. "Oh no little kitten" said Emma nervously.

The kitten had to find a safe place to hide so that Emma's mother would not find him. Reader, it is important when you have magic inside to keep it to yourself. This kitten's name was Charlie. But Emma did not know that yet. When Emma approached the kitchen, Emma found her mother making breakfast. "Emma sweet heart, there is a fiesta at the mall today and me and daddy are going to go grocery shopping while you take John and Victoria to the event. Emma was twelve. She could stay at the house by herself and could watch the kids. A while later, Victoria, John and I entered the fiesta.

The fiesta was filled with loud people and loud noises. Everything about it was loud, loud, loud! What if the kitten is here? Thought Emma to herself. Suddenly, the kitten appeared. Yes, the one that is gray, yes. "Can you please help me?" said the little kitten. "I am sorry if I have not introduced myself I am Charlie" said the little kitten. "Nice to meet you" replied Emma. "I have a necklace that is supposed to have six charms on it and has none. Can you help me and stop Evil Evelyn from stealing the charms and getting more power to rule the world and take over?" asked Charlie.

Emma thought and then answered, "Sure thing my little Charlie, anything I can do for you if you are in such danger such as this". "Thank you Emmie" replied Charlie. Soon they found Evil Evelyn running with a sparkle in her bag. "After her!" cried Charlie.

CHARLIE THE CUTE KITTEN PART 2

They reached Evil Evelyn and shouted, "Come back here!" "Never" she replied. First, Emma and Charlie hatched a plan to run in front of her and steal the first charm and so that Emma could go to Charlie's magical Heaven Kingdom. They ran and they ran until they cut in front of the powerful witch and stole the charm. "Thanks a lot!" cried Emma. Her and Charlie attached the charm to the rightful necklace where it originally belonged. "There" said Charlie satisfyingly happy. Let's go the Heaven Kingdom now. So they did and forever more lived in the world above and lived happily ever after.

~the end~