Oct 2018 - April 2019:

Oct. 2:

A Darker Shade of Magic
by Victoria Schwab

2016 "Schwab creates an ingenious set of nesting alternate Londons in this imaginative, well-crafted fantasy. Confident prose and marvelous touches - a chameleon coat, a scarlet river of magic, a piratical antiheroine - bring exuberant life to an exhilarating adventure among the worlds."

- Publishers Weekly

Nov. 6: The Shape of Water
by Daniel Kraus / Guillermo del Toro

2018 "Visionary storyteller Guillermo del Toro and celebrated author Daniel Kraus combine their estimable talent in this haunting, heartbreaking love story. Developed from the ground up as a bold two-tiered release [literature and film], The Shape of Water is unlike anything you've ever read or seen."

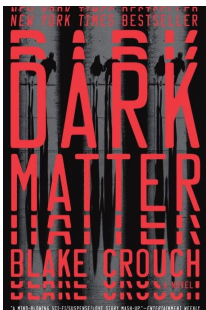

- Amazon

Dec. 4: Dark Matter
by Blake Crouch

2016 "Dark Matter is a brilliantly plotted tale that is at once sweeping and intimate, mind-bendingly strange and profoundly human—a relentlessly surprising science-fiction thriller about choices, paths not taken, and how far we'll go to claim the lives we dream of."

-Amazon

(Skip January) Feb. 5:

The Lies of Locke Lamora
by Scott Lynch

2006 "The Thorn of Camorr is said to be an unbeatable swordsman, a master thief, a ghost that walks through walls. Half the city believes him to be a legendary champion of the poor. The other half believe him to be a foolish myth. Nobody has it quite right." -Scottlynch.us

March 5:

The Nameless City
by Faith Erin Hicks

2016 "This tale of unexpected alliances has everything: winning characters, a sumptuous setting, and sharp observations about power and history. Hidden depths abound in The Nameless City."

- Scott Westerfeld

April 2: The Golden Compass
by Philip Pullman

"In a landmark epic of fantasy & storytelling, Philip Pullman invites readers into a world as convincing and thoroughly realized as Narnia, Earthsea, or Redwall. Here lives an orphaned ward named Lyra Belacqua, whose carefree life among the scholars at Oxford's Jordan College is shattered by the arrival of two powerful visitors." - publisher
