

The Flood

This is Candy. This is Max. This is Crunch. Candy and Max are twins. Crunch is their dog. Candy is a star bright candy. Max is a tootsie roll. Crunch is a dog.

Today there is a horrible flood. It came from the top of the mountains. It wasn't an ordinary flood. It was a candy flood! What should have been water was chocolate sauce and what they thought were rocks they realized it was candy.

They are terrified! They swam away to the other mountain as fast as they could go. When they reached the mountain, they started to climb it. They were cold and sticky.

They climbed, and climbed, and climbed...

until they found a cave! When they entered the cave it was very dark. They saw licorice like stalactites, peppermint sticks like stalagmites, and jelly beans that were like rocks.

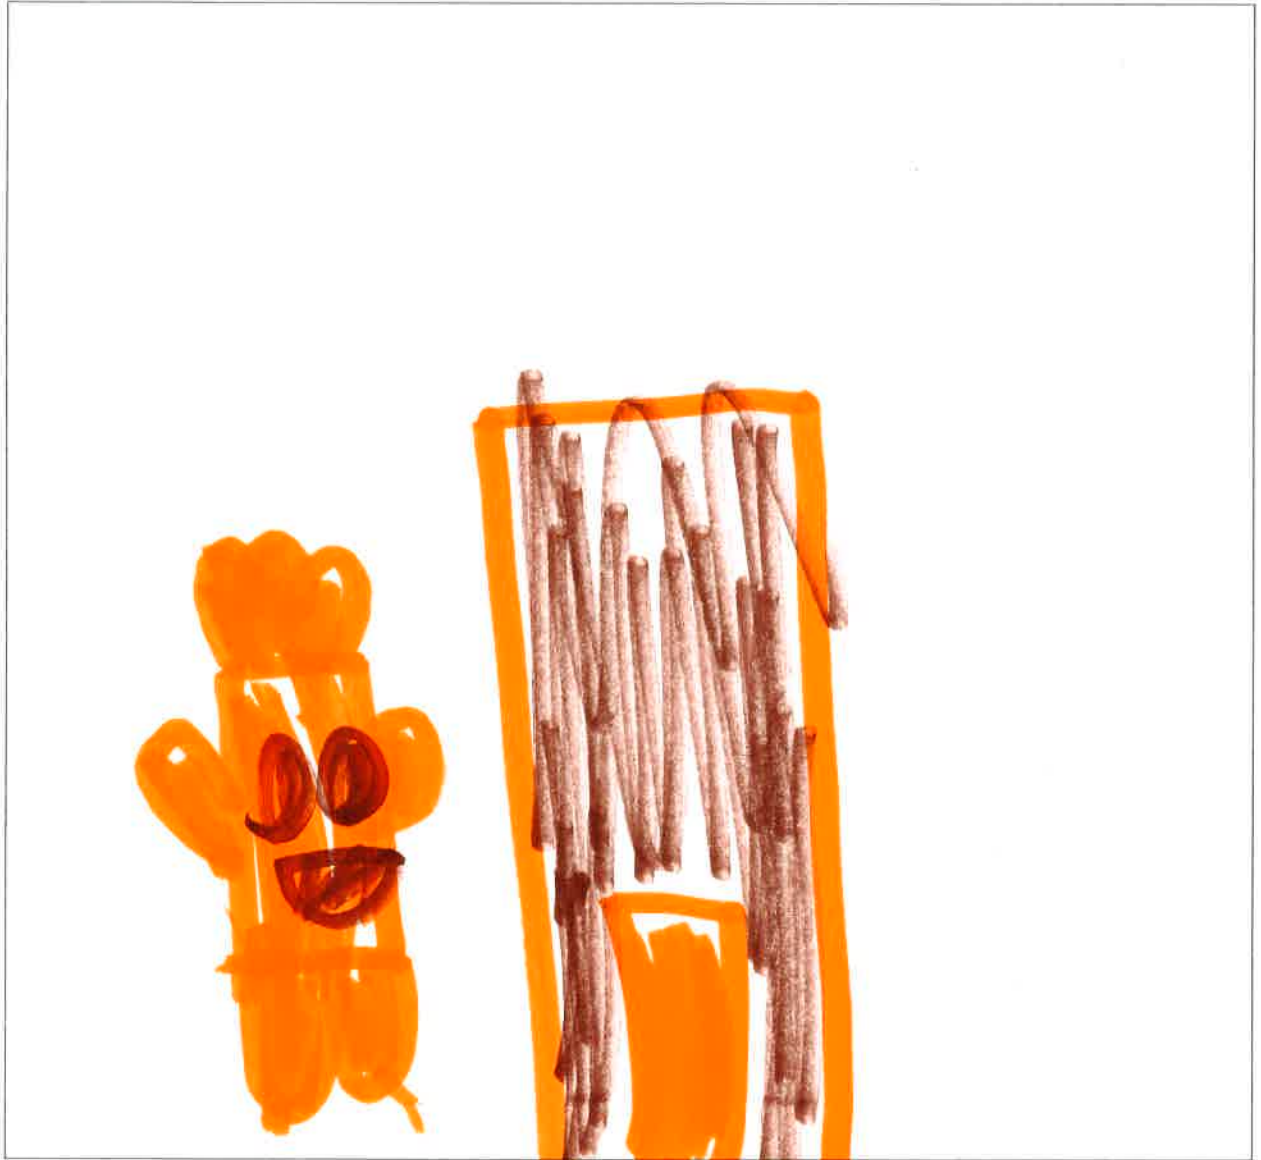

They have to save Candy Village! They built a machine with the biggest twizzler ever to suck up the flood. To move it they use lifesavers as wheels. They roll it to the edge of the mountain...

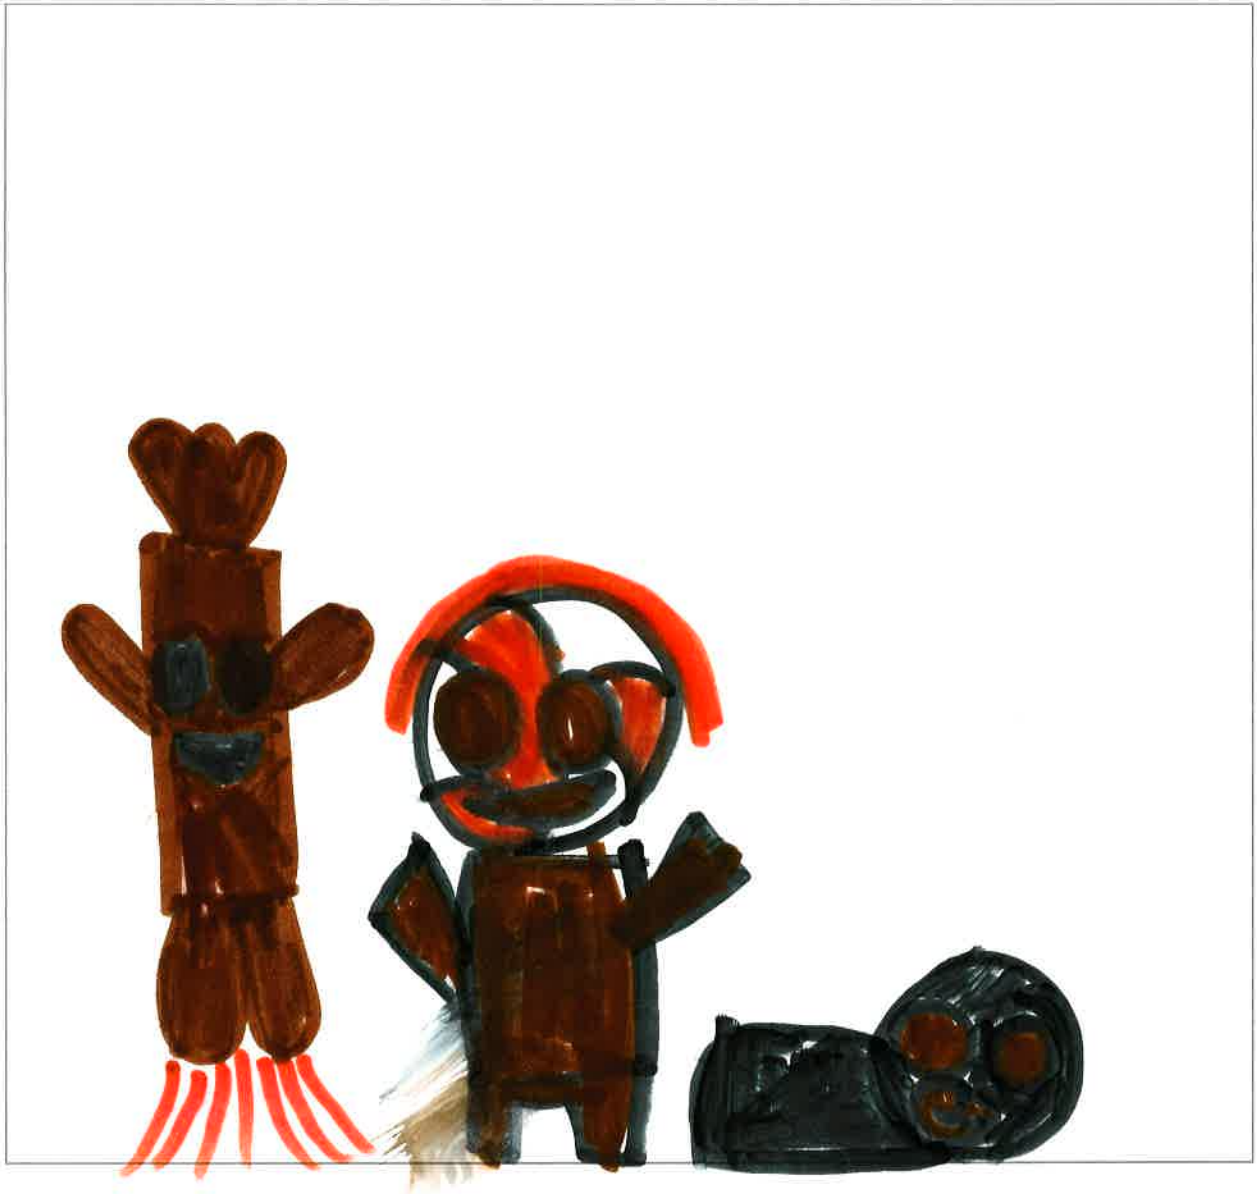

they use a code to activate the machine. They pressed Y-U-M-M-Y and the machine sucks up the flood!

The chocolate sauce is gone, but there are still some puddles, and the buildings are broken. But the glittery candy grass that is yellow, green and blue is beautiful!

Candy, Max and Crunch are proud that they saved the day and they go celebrate before rebuilding candy village with their friends. The End.
