

Cops and Ninjas

Once upon a time there was a police station in Boston. One day all the police officers went to an accident because they are the first to be called in an emergency. They came as quick as they could.

When they got there they saw a car accident on the side of the street. It was a robber driving an ordinary sedan. He was a robber who steals gems from the mine!

The robber said, "Oh no! The cops!"

The police officers yelled, "Put your hands in the air!"

The robber said, "Nooooooooooooo!"

The police officers arrested him.

The robber was named DJ. He told the cops where the other robbers were, and what they have been stealing. He said that another robber named Carl had just stolen gold from a ninja hide-out!

"We have to get into the cruiser fast!" said Officer Dave. He jumped into his cruiser as fast as he could. He yelled to his partner, "Officer John, you bring this robber to the prison! We'll go capture the rest."

And then Officer John said, "Yes, sir!"

The rest of the cops went with Officer Dave to catch the other robbers.

They drove to the country to try to find the criminals. They discovered a secret hide-out inside a rock that's as big as a football field! There's a secret door that opens only if you say the right password.

Officer Dave said, "Open up, please." Nothing happened. Then he yelled, "Ninja ninja go!" And the door opened fast, in just two seconds, with a tiny squeak.

Inside was four ninjas. The ninjas said, "Hello." And they let everyone come in, because they knew the password. They showed the officers the box that held their gold. Only one little crumb of gold was left, and one ripped piece of a dollar.

Ninja Jay said, "Hey officers, can you help us? Our gold got stolen because a robber opened our door with a crowbar in the middle of the night." He told the officers that all the ninjas woke up when they heard the door go eeeeeek. The robber saw the box of gold and he got everything as fast as he could. But then he heard the ninjas come down the steps boom boom boom. So he ran away as fast as he could. The ninjas had almost captured him, but he ran right out the door.

Officer Banka said, "We can help you." So they called a detective to come. Detective Kitty came in an air glider as fast as he could because that was the fastest way to get there. He used his magnifying glass and found a trail of gold and money. That trail lead to a weird tower in the middle of the city. There was thousands and thousands of robbers hiding inside!

Detective Kitty called Firefighter Ryan and said, "Could you please come help us? We have an emergency!"

Firefighter Ryan said, "Sure!" And he came in a ladder fire truck. Officer Sean climbed up the ladder with Firefighter Ryan. They got into the building. Officer Sean and Firefighter Ryan yelled, "Freeze with your hands up!" They caught all the bad guys. They arrested Robber Carl and found the ninjas' gold in a box.

Officer Banka bought the stolen gold and money back to the ninjas' hideout. The ninjas said, "Thank you!"

Officer Banka said, "You're welcome!"

The police chief called all the officers and told them there was an award ceremony, so all the officers went back to the police station. They saw balloons and a cake on a table. And their rewards were gold medals.

The chief told them, "Good job! You caught Robber Carl, the chief robber!"
