

A COMMUNITY READ EVENT

The Lions of Isabella

SATURDAY
May 3

Legend has it that in 1897, Isabella Stewart Gardner walked a lion named Rex by its mane down Boylston Street to the shock and amazement of the Boston Public!

Join art educator, Tif Farmakis-Day, as she helps you craft these fun lions reminiscent of Isabella's daring feat. There will be two age-based sessions offered on a first come, first allowed basis. In-person registration will begin one hour prior to the event.
